

Cecil B. Hill

November 12, 1931 - September 17, 2023

Cecil Birch Hill was born in Florida and spent his early years exploring the city and all that it had to offer. He was an adventurous spirit, always eager to try new things and see new places. When he was called to serve in the US Military as a Marine, he answered the call with bravery and honor, defending our country and our way of life. His service to our nation was a testament to his character, and it was a source of great pride for him throughout his life.

When Cecil Birch Hill returned home from the war, he began a new chapter in his life, one filled with family, friends, and all the things he loved. He was blessed with three daughters, twelve grandchildren, and several great grand kids. He cherished each one of them, spending countless hours at several family gatherings with them. His always took time to share his knowledge and appreciation of the natural world with those he loved.

In the end, Cecil Birch Hill passed away peacefully in Washington, DC at the age of 91, surrounded by the love of his family. He left behind a legacy of love, kindness, and generosity that will live on in the hearts of all who knew him. Today, we say goodbye to a beloved grandfather, a proud veteran, and a true friend. May he rest in peace and may his memory live on in our hearts forever.
